May this book preserve in a measure the joys and sorrows, work and play, fellowship and friendship of our fellow students. Our aim has been to make the volume as representative and beautiful as possible. Dedication

*To one who by birth, education, and characteristics is a genuine
Texan; who by nature, preparation, and attitude is a genuine scholar; who in planning, believing, and working is a genuine optimist; and who through politeness, kindness, and helpfulness is a genuine gentleman.*

Administration

*Like a storied castle of old,
Lifting her spire in the blue,
Dear Alma Mater keeps watch
While decades of students pass through.*

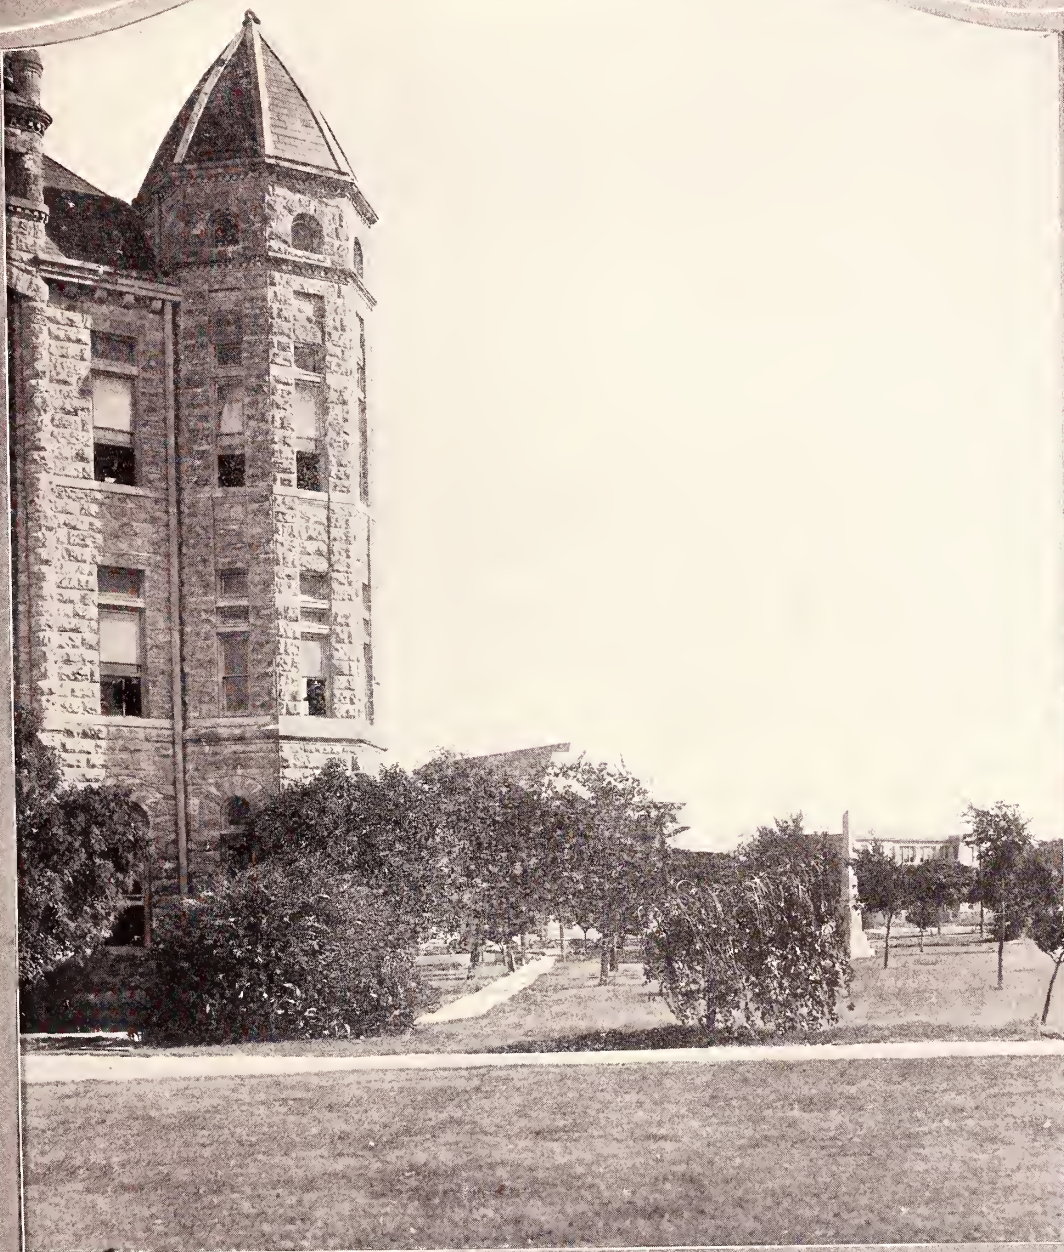

*Glorious days of hazing:
Lust a kangaroo court or a pen,
Are the sweetest lore of Mood Hall,
The haven of Southwestern men.*

*The long walks of our college campus
We sometimes wish were longer;
There's nothing like strolling together
To make young friendships stronger.*

*Filled with the love of the old one
And the beauty the new imparts
Is the pride of our Southwestern
The real home of our hearts.*

*Symbols of rugged strength
Are Alma Mater's towers,
Strength built of faith and love
And a trust that none is ours.*

*Here's where pre-meds and chemists
Receive the best of instruction,
Proving what they are taught
By laboratory induction.*

*Over the arched stone portals
The creeping ivy crawls,
Portals that open wide for us

*A bit of the beauty of Spain
Or an island of the sea
Is this pleasant place for adding Certificates to degrees.*

BISHOP

President

JAMES SAMUEL BARCUS, A. M., D. D.

WE, the students of Southwestern University, wishing to express our appreciation of our President, have set aside this page to him in token of our esteem.

Dr. James Samuel Barcus was called to Southwestern as her president three years ago. He succeeded Dr. Paul Whitfield Horn who is now president of the Texas Technological College at Lubbock. A graduate of the institution and formerly an instructor here, Dr. Barcus is qualified to preside over her destinies, for he knows her history and loves her as a true and loyal son loves his Alma Mater.

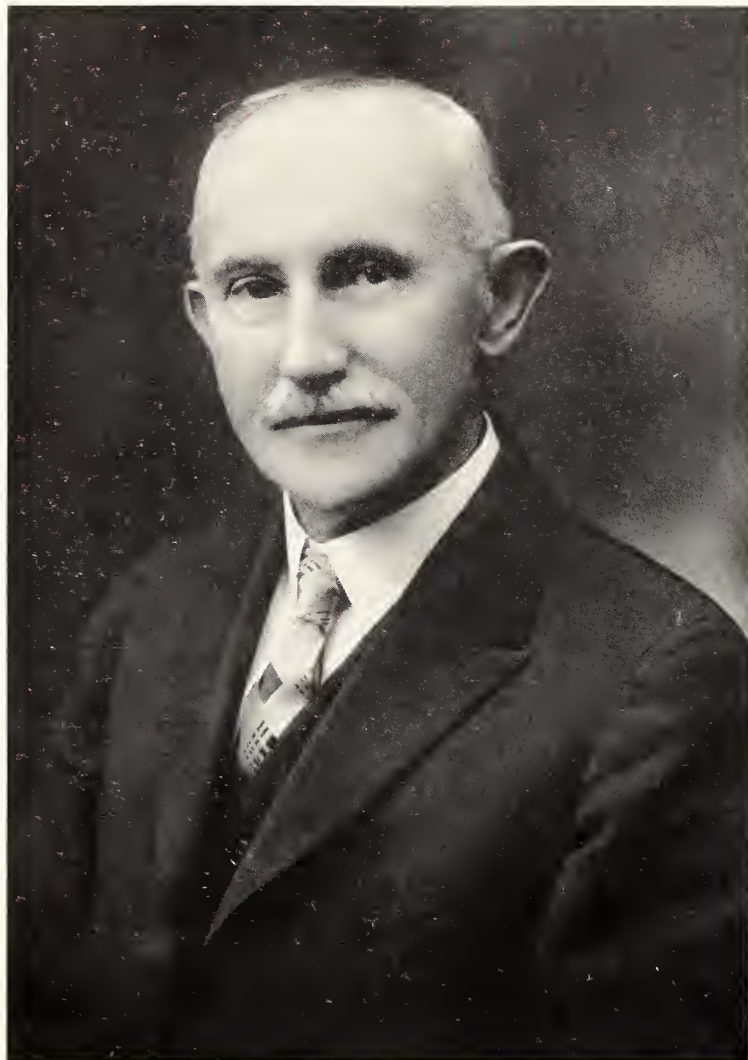

President Barcus was graduated with the M.A. degree from Southwestern, and from here he went to Vanderbilt where he did his theological work. He returned and for four years taught in the Department of Bible and Religion. During his thirty years of active ministry he was pastor of many important charges in Texas, and has served as presiding elder in important districts. He was called to be president of Clarendon College where he remained for three years. Southwestern granted him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in recognition of his splendid work in Texas Methodism. Dr. Barcus has four brothers who are well-known preachers in Southern Methodism. The results of his consecrated work for the Master have been far-reaching.

President Barcus always welcomes a student who comes to him for help of any kind. His office door is always open to those who need his advice and inspiration. His whole heart and soul are in his work, and the interests of Southwestern are his interests.

Admin- istra- tion

Glenn Flinn, A.B., B.D., Executive Secretary, is the man who sells South-western to Texas. He is largely responsible for the collection of funds which made possible the imposing new Woman's Building, and is at work now on the Endowment Fund and the proposed Cody Memorial Library. Although he frequently finds it necessary to be absent and is not in as close contact with students as he might otherwise be, he is nevertheless one of the best liked figures on the campus.

Miss Pearl Neas is the lady who holds sway over the Registrar's office. She knows just where you stand in your courses, and can give your folks the low-down on your record any time they ask for it. But, more than this, she is always kind and courteous in her contact with the students, and always ready to go out of her way to be accommodating. She has a host of friends among students who have come to love her winsome ways.

Senior Program Tea

A program tea was given in the Woman's Building on the afternoon of Easter Sunday in honor of the Senior Class. After an informal reception in the lobby, a program was given in the Assembly Hall. Music and readings followed an impressive service of lighting the tapers in the candelabra, by the Senior girls.

Dinner was served to the Seniors at the conclusion of the program, and the class donned caps and gowns for their first appearance in the Methodist Church at the evening service.

Pi Kappa Alpha Reception

Alpha Omicron Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha gave a reception September ninth at their house, which had been made very attractive with autumn flowers, and ferns. The entire chapter formed the receiving line, with the house mother, Mrs. Mood, and mothers of the members, assisting in entertaining. Refreshments were served on the sun porch of the chapter house. Four hundred callers were registered in the guest book, and the Pi Kappa Alpha reception will be remembered as one of the most brilliant of the year.

Pledges Entertain Pi K. A.'s

The pledges of Pi K. A. entertained the initiates with a Mexican Supper November twenty second, at the Chapter house. In the evening, following this courtesy, the friends of the Pi K. A.'s in the Woman's Building were entertained and refreshments were served.

Inter-Fraternity Smoker

Alpha Omicron Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha acted as host at the inter-fraternity smoker held during the mid-term. Music was furnished by the "Seven Sailors from the Unknown Seas" orchestra. Sandwiches and milk constituted the refreshments, and concluded a most delightful affair.

Alpha Delta Pi Christmas Party

A jolly Christmas party was one of the notable hospitalities given by the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis made an admirable setting for the party, with the cheer of open fireplaces, and yuletide decorations. Gifts that brought much merriment, and noise, were distributed during the evening, and games and refreshments were in keeping with the happiest season of the year. The guests of the Alpha Deltas will treasure in their memories the gracious hospitality of the Alpha Deltas in the ideal Southern home of one of their members.

A novelty skating party was the Kappa Sigma's hospitality on February seventh. This was a diversion that was greatly enjoyed by members and guests.

Texas Gamma Chapter of Phi Delta Theta entertained at their house on Church Street at the beginning of the fall term. The approach of Hallowe'en gave the motif for the evenings' games, favors and refreshments, and the atmosphere thus created, mysterious and "spookish," was heightened by the masks worn by the guests.

During the winter term, the Chapter entertained with a skating party, followed by an informal buffet luncheon at the house.

A distinguished visitor, Robert E. Craig, of New Orleans, was honored by his fraternity brothers, the Kappa Sigmas, with a luncheon, during a visit to Georgetown.

Kappa Sigmas Observe Founder's Day

The Kappa Sigmas of Iota Chapter observed Founder's Day December tenth, at their home on University Avenue. A buffet supper was followed by an interesting program received on the radio from St. Louis. Prominent members of the fraternity sponsored this program. Guests of the Society chapter included former members and their wives, and the occasion was a memorable one for all present.

Among the many pleasures the picnics given November table. The class put aside accrued during the first and reverted to the care enjoyment of the games, the supper. No other of the such good fellowship to the

One of the most enjoyable of the Tri Delta hospitalities was a skating party given during the stay of the roller skating rink in the city. The prizes for the most graceful skaters were awarded to Frederick Seafers and Miss Mary Young, and for the most awkward to Alvin Stahl and Miss Dorothy Seale. "Army" Armstrong's fall was given the unanimous vote for the greatest of all during the evening. Refreshments were served at the home of Misses Bernice and Gladys Huffstutler, and the evening ended in great hilarity when various musical instruments and noise makers were organized into a carnival band by Messrs. Frederick Seafers and Ellis Perry.

Junior-Senior Banquet

On Monday evening, February 14, the Juniors entertained the Seniors with a five course dinner. The dining room was effectively decorated in Southwestern colors, and the tables were adorned with spring blossoms, bringing about a scene

Among the speakers were Fred Cooper Smith who welcomed the Seniors and Earnest Hardin who responded. Curtis Nunn read a prophecy in verse which brought forth much applause.

Among the faculty representatives were Dr. and Mrs. Barcus, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Flinn, and Mr. and Mrs. Hester.

Mrs. R. J. Stone was hostess for the buffet supper which formed the second course. After a pleasant hour in the attractive Stone home, the party adjourned to the hospitable bungalow of Dr. and Mrs. Moses, where dessert was served. A stunt program was given by the freshmen and thus ended a most delightful evening.

The pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha entertained the initiates with a dinner party at the Commercial Hotel just before the holidays.

The table decorations were miniature Christmas trees, and red and green

Kappa Alpha Social Activities

The Kappa Alpha Fraternity entertained informally at various times throughout the year, for pledges and initiates, and for the co-eds.

Among the distinguished visitors entertained during the year was Judge W. H. Atwell of Dallas, a member of Xi Chapter, and a prominent alumnus of Southwestern.

Dull care was left behind when the Seniors went to the river April first for a day of outdoor sports and mirthful diversions. After baseball games, mountain climbing and swimming, the jolly class resolved itself into a Kangaroo Court which provoked much merriment.

Pageantry

PAGEANTRY IN SOUTHWESTERN

During the administration of the much beloved and revered Charles McTyeire Bishop as president of Southwestern University, pageantry in Southwestern had its beginning. Miss Kuykendall organized and directed the first May Fete which occurred May Day, 1915. In an unbroken succession of beautiful pageants May Fetes came and went through the years until the Golden Jubilee, 1923. This year the custom is revived, and June 4th, the tenth pageant is to be presented on the lawn of the Woman's Building. Miss Kuykendall has been the only director the pageants have ever had. The thousands of people who have taken part in the pageants, and the many thousands who have witnessed the pageants are testimonials of their importance at Southwestern; and the large measure of success which has characterized each is due to the director who has spent unsparingly of talent, time and energy in the large task of assembling the material, organizing the personnel and directing the presentations. Miss Kuykendall has had most excellent assistance, splendid and whole hearted cooperation, and through her effective personality and unusual executive ability the mere mention of May Fete or Pageant at Southwestern calls to mind the spirit of the leader who has placed pageantry firmly in the spirit and tradition of Southwestern University, such that a lapse of three years was insufficient to allow it to become a memory. To the contrary, in spite of a lack of desire on her part to revive the arduous duties pertaining thereto, an urgent demand for a 1927 Pageant called her to the lead of another unusually beautiful occasion.

The Students' Association of Southwestern University comprises every regularly registered student in residence at the institution. The constitution of the Association includes provisions for the organization, officers, officers of student publications, executive committee, nominating committee, and the Honor System.

The officers of the association are elected on the second Tuesday of May to act for the following school year. The editors and managers of the three publications of the Association are elected in the first week of February.

The executive committee, of seven members, three of which must be Seniors, has power to act in representation of the Association. and is elected during the first week of the Fall Term.

The nominating committee is described elsewhere in this book.

The Honor System, controlled by the Students' Association presumes that every student is a lady or a gentleman. Certain violations of the code of honor are defined in the constitution and are punishable if a student is convicted before the Council of Honor. This Council is composed of nine members; four Seniors, three Juniors, and two Sophomores.

The Students' Association transacts such business as necessitates action on the part of all students and serves to unify and govern many campus activities.

Although any individual may nominate from the floor of the Association, following the report of the committee, the recommendations of the committee are usually accepted. The Honor Council is composed of four Seniors, three Juniors, and two Sophomores elected by the respective classes. These students represent the Student Association and serve as a board of judgment in the case of any student who fails to observe the rules and regulations of the Honor System.

The Honor Council considers every student a lady or a gentlemen until his or her conduct proves the opposite. The Council this year, however, has adopted a slight change in its procedure of a case. A student is neither considered guilty nor innocent upon appearing before the Council but is asked to clear himself or herself of all question, to the satisfaction of everyone. A unanimous decision of the Council is necessary.

The Honor System was not built up as a limitation, but rather as a protection. It is anticipated that the present movement on foot for a Greater Southwestern will eventually result in the emancipation of the working principles of a high system of Honor which will even prove to be an inspiration and a goal.

Friendships that are formed while in College are those that will follow one throughout life. Realizing the importance of true friendships and that such friendships can come only from really knowing one's associates, the Y.W.C.A. has sponsored the organization of Club Unions. The girls were divided through a process of drawing, into twelve cosmopolitan groups, with a leader for each group. The responsibility for the social life of the group each week, was cared for by a committee from that group. Such entertainments as "feasts," picnics, hikes, picture show parties, and many other forms of pleasure were planned and carried out. Often the groups would get together, take the University bus, and go to Austin to a drama, a musical comedy, or to hear some great artist.

In these groups the poor and the rich girls became understanding friends; the Sorority girls met the non-sorority girl, all on equal footing, each developing her own personality by finding something likeable, something beautiful and something worth-while in the personalities of others.

These Club Unions have become a part of our "New Annex," and will continue to live helping to furnish for the girls of the Woman's Building; not more social life, but a higher type of social life; not more friends, but truer friendships.

“To influence students to devote themselves, in united effort with all Christians, to making the will of Christ effective in human society, and to extending the Kingdom of God throughout the World.”

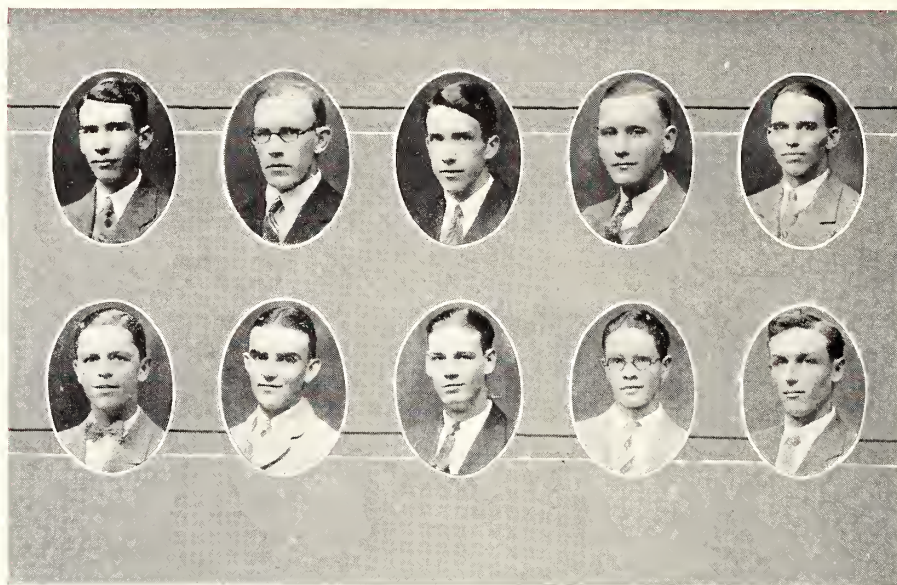

It is to Youth that the World is turning for the solution of its problems, for in Youth one finds the seeds of a new civilization. If solutions are given and a new and better civilization built, there must be training; there must be places for expression; there must be times when students can call a halt in their apparent rush through Life, and think upon the vital issues of this Life.

The local Y.M.C.A. is a part of the movement of Young Peoples Christian Associations. The purpose and ideal of the Y.M.C.A. is to bring the campus to a higher plane of living, to seek, and to help others seek, through faith in Jesus Christ, an answer to the problems that confront the student in his daily round, to stimulate real thinking on the part of each individual student on his relationship with his fellow student and with God and to make that relationship a little closer and more satisfactory than before. In short to help each student to find the highest and best in life through a practical application of the teachings of Jesus in every relationship.

The old Mood Hall dining hall was remodeled and refurnished as a reading and play room, and is equipped with books, magazines, games, a piano and a radio; and a small gymnasium is also being prepared. A Student's Handbook was published at the beginning of the year for the benefit of the new students, finding employment for those desirous of work, and in cooperation with the Y.W., sponsored a "get acquainted week" of socials and receptions.

Notable in the work of the "Y" this year has been the organization of the Georgetown "Knot-Hole" gang, which is an organization of the younger boys of the town for the purpose of training them under proper leadership to a higher moral standard of living.

Honor Stu- dents

In the spring of 1926 the policy of designating high rank students who have completed two years of college work as Honor Students was inaugurated. Such students are granted certain privileges, such as optional attendance upon classes and chapel, with the purpose of securing for them freedom to pursue more original work of interest to them in connection with their major subject. A gratifying number of students have qualified for honors, and at the beginning of each term public recognition of newly elected students is held in the chapel, at the close of which each student elected is presented with a certificate by the chairman of the Honors Committee of the faculty. Honor students are expected to do unusually excellent work, especially in their chosen field of study, and the committee receives reports of their progress and achievement from instructors involved. Up to the present time reports have been almost uniformly gratifying to the committee, and the establishment of the policy seems to have justified itself in results obtained.

From time to time, as circumstances arise, the administration of honors may be modified but the essential aim of securing larger freedom of study for especially gifted students will remain as the raison d'être of the Honors List.

Question: Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine is no longer needed, and should be abolished.

The Brooks Prize Debate is the annual commencement event between the San Jacinto Literary Society and the Alamo Literary Society. The prize consists of twenty-five dollars worth of books purchased with the income from a fund established by Judge R. E. Brooks of Houston, and awarded to the society whose representatives are successful in the debate. Every year this debate is a feature of the commencement week, and, because of the ancient rivalry between the two societies, is well attended both by students and alumni.

The Southwestern Science Society has grown gradually out of the Southwestern Chemical Society, and has added the exact sciences one by one, until this year the Department of Mathematics was invited to join the society. The invitation was accepted and one professor and five students were initiated from that department. There are eight students from the Department of Chemistry, five from the Department of Physics, two from the Department of Biology and Geology. There are seven professors in active membership.

It is the purpose of the society to take upon itself the work of promulgating popular knowledge and appreciation of science and its activities.

Outstanding in the work of the Society for this year has been the bringing of Dr. E. E. Slosson to Southwestern to lecture on "Science and Religion." A reception was held in his honor.

The Ministerial Association is an organization for the student ministers upon the campus. It is a band of men looking forward to a common service for the church and for humanity, and with these ideas in mind the activities of the Association are so guided as to best prepare these men for their particular service.

The Association meets once a week, at which time devotionals are conducted, and talks are made either by members of the Association or by someone of larger experiences.

This year the Association has made great advances. We operate by a written constitution; a permanent record of all the meetings is kept; members of the Association preach every Sunday in near by churches.

Mask and Wig

Mr. William Dwight Wentz, who has ever encouraged the best interests of the university and under whose direction dramatics, and other fields of art have flourished in Southwestern.

His objective aims have been to raise dramatic taste and standards, and to further dramatic activity in the community.

We praise him for his attainments.

THE IRRESISTIBLE THEATRE

No art possessing a more universal appeal ever sprang from the soul of man than the art of the theatre. In this art there is a place for the author, actor, painter, musician, critic, mechanic, carpenter, director, journalist, advertiser, business manager, lawyer—in fact the art of the theatre draws into it men and women of artistic inclinations from almost every known profession.

Mask and Wig

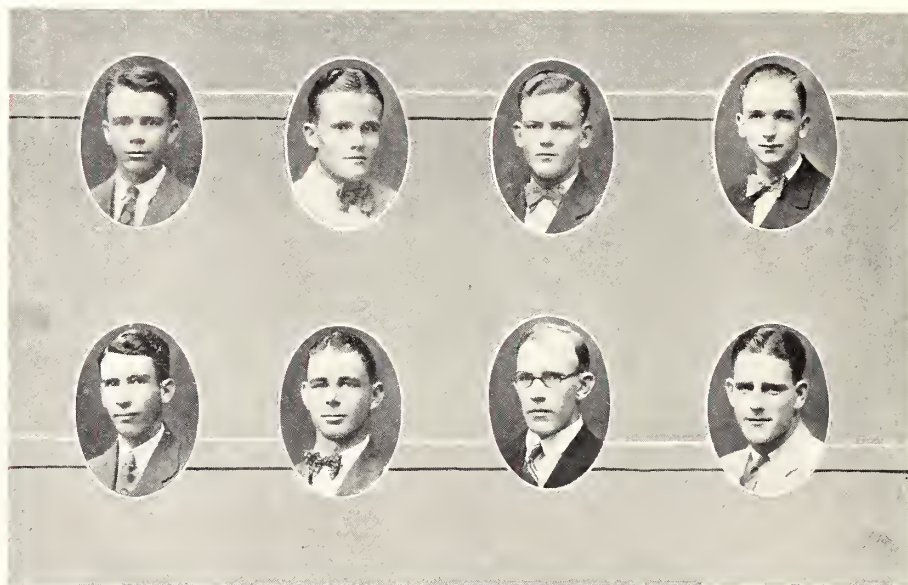

Notable in the past were "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," "If I Were King," "Told in a Chinese Garden," "The Piper," and "Peer Gynt."

Most significant of the present were "Macbeth," "Judge Lynch," "The Rector," "The Little Father of the Wilderness."

Still more significant of the present was the reception of the Mask and Wig Players into the National Organization of Collegiate Players.

The objects of the Scholarship Society are the stimulation, promotion, and recognition of scholarship and the elements of character which make scholarship effective for good. Any student is eligible for membership in the Society who has established an average of ninety over a minimum of eighteen majors, or an average of eighty-seven over twenty-seven majors of work. Good character and reputation are essential qualifications for entrance.

The colors of the Society are emerald green, signifying victory, and sapphire blue, signifying truth. Each member is entitled to wear a key in the form of a shield, and bearing a lamp representing the light of knowledge and truth.

It is the custom of the Society to award a dictionary to the Freshman attaining the highest average in his or her work during the year. A speaker is invited at some time during the year to address the student body on some phase of scholarship.

It is the purpose of this organization to stimulate progress, and to promote interest in intercollegiate oratory, debate, and public speaking, by encouraging a spirit of intercollegiate fellowship, of brotherly cooperation and interest, and by conferring upon deserving candidates the badge of distinction, proficiency, and honor, varied and graduated according to merit and achievement.

The purpose of the Alpha Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu Social Science Society is to form a nucleus of Social Science thought, from which emanate forces that cause thought and action toward a betterment of the social conditions. With such a purpose in view, this, the third year of its existence on Southwestern's campus, we find the Society earnestly working by bringing good speakers to stimulate the Society.

The requirements for entrance are not too high, but are sufficiently high to enable only such students as are especially interested in Social Science to gain entrance. Juniors, seniors, and faculty members are eligible for membership, and their major interest must be in Social Science.

The Alpha Beta Chapter of the Sigma Tau Delta is at present the largest in America and is the twenty-sixth to be established. The Sigma Tau Delta is a professional writing fraternity for those eager to master the fine art of expression. Its purpose is to foster the creative expression of life in the terms of truth and in accordance with the laws of design. All members are pledged to produce regularly and contribute to "The Rectangle," the national organ of the fraternity. Ranking ranges from the first to the tenth degrees—three for undergraduates and seven for graduates and instructors. Academic standing and the amount of original published material determine the rank. The works of several members have appeared in magazines. The Southwestern chapter has five faculty members and is sponsored by Dr. Claud Howard, founder who is a national adviser.

The Choral Club is one of the most active musical organizations of the campus. The artistic and attractive programs presented in Chapel at various times, on Fine Arts Programs and on tour met with enthusiastic response. The musical work of the Club has ranked it with one of the best choral organizations of the state, a fact of which Southwestern is justly proud.

The spring tours of 1927 included Hearne, Caldwell, Bryan, Calvert, Cameron, Temple, Lampasas, Brady, Ballinger, Coleman, Comanche, Hamilton and Gatesville.

Glee Club

The Glee Club of Southwestern is a group of sixteen carefully selected voices. Preference is given to upper-classmen who have sung in the club during a previous season; however, an exceptional voice will entitle a newcomer to due consideration.

The Glee Club makes a tour annually to important towns in Texas and is also featured in a concert on the Campus during National Music Week. The 1927 tour includes engagements at New Braunfels, San Antonio, Karnes City, Corpus Christi, Taft, Robstown, Goliad and Gonzales.

Steps have been taken which will probably make the Southwestern Glee Club a part of the national organization of the Intercollegiate Musical Council, Inc. Such action will involve the Glee Club in State contests with other clubs of like standing, and, in the event of demonstrated superiority, possibly in national contests.

The work of our club has been to prepare a program of standard and entertaining selections with a leaning toward music of the best composers. The personnel of the 1927 club has been exceptional in several respects. The Club has been directed throughout the season by Dean Meyer.

South- western Sym- phony

The Southwestern Symphony set for its goal three years ago the attainment of an orchestra of true symphonic type. The various choirs were placed in charge of competent principals, who, in cooperation with the conductor, succeeded in bringing about a well balanced ensemble.

The splendid spirit of the Department of Music has helped make possible the growth of this organization. Although it is a voluntary student group, with a loyalty not surpassed by any other student organization, the orchestra would have been most seriously handicapped without Miss Vause, head of the violin department.

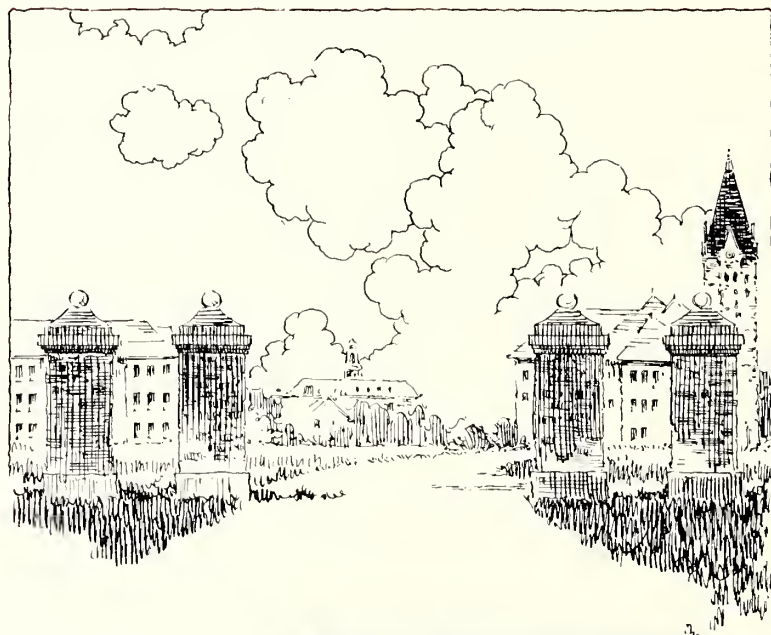

The Orchestra appears in chapel occasionally, bringing to the students music of a high type. The University from time to time sends the Symphony out to represent her before the people of Texas.

The Southwestern Little Orchestra should be mentioned as the utility section of the Orchestra and furnishes music for University functions and calls from the city and surrounding territory for minor occasions.

The Pan-Hellenic Council of Southwestern University is composed of two representatives from each of the four fraternities, Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, and Kappa Sigma. Regular meetings are held the first Monday of each month, and call meetings are held at the request of members.

The purpose of this Council is to encourage a better understanding between fraternity and non-fraternity men, to govern fraternities in regard to rushing, pledging, and initiating, to settle all disputes and difficulties that may arise between the fraternities, thereby maintaining a spirit of cooperation and harmony, to encourage scholarship to the extent that no fraternity may initiate until a certain average is made by the fraternity and the pledges.

Pan Hellenic sponsored, as in previous years, the inter-fraternity smoker that was given in the winter term. Each year a schedule is arranged for baseball, basket ball, and track. This year tennis and golf were added to the inter-fraternity sports. Rules regarding eligibility are passed by this body and dates are fixed for the occurrence of events.

All rules set forth by the Dean of Women and the Dean of the University have been endorsed by Pan-Hellenic and the different fraternities are held responsible.

The Woman's Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of two representatives of each sorority of the campus, has charge of all matters of an inter-sorority interest. They make the rushing rules, and are held responsible for the enforcement of these rules as well as punishments of violations.

The Council sponsored the annual All-University tea, the purpose of the tea being to give the students a chance to know each other better. The affair was highly enjoyed by the entire student body.

To coach Charles Edens this section of the Sou'wester is affectionately and respectfully dedicated.

His unflagging loyalty and energy, his entire willingness, and his very earnestness have won our sincere respect. Moreover, his clear understanding of the problems that confront him at Southwestern and his never failing spirit of good fellowship, have gained him our deep and lasting regard.

CAPTAIN
GRADY REYNOLDS

The basket ball team improved as the season progressed. They came out second place in the Conference tournament. At the beginning of the season the team showed very little out of the ordinary, but the persistent effort gradually fashioned the quintet into a smooth working aggregation that dealt the opposition untold misery during the latter part of the season.

The play of the team in the tournament showed the "old Pirate form"—it reflected the untiring effort of Coach Edens in his determination to build a winning team.

Basket- ball

CAPTAIN GRADY REYNOLDS, Center

A pivot man who was sure of the tip off. His passing was accurate and at times his goal shooting ability approached the phenomenal.

WESLEY BLACKBURN, Guard

A wonderful floor man and a fighting guard with a good eye for the basket. Picked at guard on the Mythical team in Texas Conference.

Basket- ball

JOHN LYNUM, Forward

John was at his best when he was able to dribble, pivot, and out-wit his opponent. Two more years competition will make him a really great player.

EDWIN MIKULIK, Forward

His uncanny eye for the goal from the side lines made many points for the Pirates. Mikulik is a defensive man that it is impossible to get by.

Basket- ball

LEE LEHMBERG, Forward

Rated as a forward of the second class at the first of the season, Lee proved that persistence is worth while and made a first rate forward.

EARL HUFF, Guard

In the thick of every fray, we are sure to find Huff, because his spirit carries him into the thickest part of the game.

Basket- ball

ALVIN STAHL, Forward

Bulla played every position with efficiency, but forward was his best. His motto was "Catch, pass, shoot." He was the best dribbler on the team.

HERSCHEL BRANNON, Guard

Another man who never left his man and could shoot with the best of them. A type of the hustling player.

CAPTAIN
FRED BURGIN

The Pirates won the Championship at the first official Texas Conference meet. Starting the season with several veterans missing, the prospects were none too bright, but with the influx of new material which showed unusual ability the vacancies were filled.

Due to the fact that Coach Edens was occupied with the baseball team, "Captain" Rodney Kidd, ex-Pirate star, directed the track destinies.

Probably only a few of the letter men of the Championship squad will return, and only in justice to them, it can be said that they were members of perhaps the best team that ever wore the winged "S".

The 1926 Pirate nine lacked only one-half game of fulfilling the fond dream of winning four successive championships during the first year with Coach "Lefty Edens" at the helm.

The Pirates played eighteen games, winning nine, losing eight and tying one. The tie game was played with Trinity and eliminated Pirate championship hopes.

The Pirates gave the Texas Longhorns two terrific battles, the Steers being extremely lucky to win the first by a home run in the ninth with the score 4-2 against them.

Perhaps the feature of the season was the master pitching of Lynum and Duncan and the terrific hitting of Carl Reynolds.

THE OLD ANNEX

The place where the girls were genteel young ladies and not flappers, where they were so well preserved that they were chaperoned on every date, not the dependable co-ed of today that needs no chaperoning. When privileges were not granted they were taken, causing such episodes as the basket stunt, where a curious professor was drawn up in a clothes hamper to a girl's room, the girls thinking they had a hamper full of food. The curious professor deciding to aid the Dean of Women turned detective and beat the boys to their elevator; needless to say when the girls discovered their catch, the basket, professor, and all reached the ground much sooner than he cared for it to.

REFLECTIONS OF A FRESHMAN ON HIS WAY BACK

Well here I am but where in the—am I? Is this the way to town, or is this? We must have ridden at least an hour so it must be about twenty miles back. I don't know what road I'm on and my shoes are gone. Darn the gravel. There ain't no Justice. All this misery just because the sophs had to have some fun. I wish I had the guy that put this knot on my head . . . Too bad about Tony's teeth. He shouldn't have been running tho. . . . These old tires don't make very good shoes but they're better than nothing. Ouch! (The rest is really too shocking for words).—Wooten Lewis.

Dr. Tinsley (the day after the first faculty meeting): Say—uh—Doctor Godbey, don't you think Mr. Wapples' head looks like Dr. Granbury's behind?

Elizabeth: Who?

Guss: Troy Laundry.

"How is Prof. William's head like a frog?"

"Neither have hair on them."

She was a phantom and a fright
 When last she screamed upon my sight;
 A grotesque apparition sent
 To be a week end's devilment;
 Her eyes like those of bunnies—pink;
 Her fur was rabbit, too, I think;
 But all things else about her lent
 From those with whom these days she spent
 A frightful shape, a perfect fool—
 She does not go to our school.

Louie: What did you send Betty for her birthday?

Dear Sue:—

Let's chin awhile, chum. Oh man! but you've no idea what you've been missing by not coming to Southwestern. Listen, friend, I'm not puttin' you on, but this place is just lovely. No jesting—the boys are all swell fellows. They call me “Oh, you little cutie,” just off hand like. And the girls are too attractive. They're all so clubby, as my room-mate says—particularly the ones that belong to the sororities.

Some of 'em are Dealter, Dealter, Dealters. That name whips me. First girl told me she was one. I says, “Shake that thing, kid, I heard you the first time.” Then I heard her tell another girl I got her told. Don't know what that means, babe. Then there are some they call Al For Deals. I don't know why they wear teddybear pins, some of 'em, but they're bucking around town, I'll say! The Fine Mules, 'spose they're from Missouri, are neat hides, too. Name doesn't seem to suit 'em much though, 'cause one of 'ems a “nice” baby from San Tone. But maybe I'm not spelling names right—tell the truth, there's so much to learn. Then there are some more they call Beau—mounters. Heard one fellow say, and he's the biggest horse, that they put the town on a boom but they were a brain storm. Well, such popularity must be de served.

My room-mate's middle name is gripe. She was howlin' yesterday: “Make's me so mad I could eat ham! B—simply won't ask me for a date”. She didn't get a crying thing outta me. I just laughed and laughed and laughed and I says, “Ain't no need in that. Why don't you inveigle him?” And, do tell! the next minute, stake me out if she wasn't puttin' on her war paint to go inveigle him, 'cause she's a little meanie, really. She made me go to the Little Store with her. He hollers: “Hey, there, stuff,” and I hears her tell him, “Let's do a little light and fancy courtin'.” Feature that! But he seems to think nothing of it, and shoot's back “Will you kiss me now or later?” I thought I'd go out like a light, but that was easy to what comes later. (I'll write it in a dramatic style, like our dyed-in-the wool professor told us, to save time):

She—“I can come, baby.”

He—“Hot dog, gimme a nickle!”

She—“Come on and do that thing.”

He—“Whatcha gonna say friend?”

She—“Man, you're the worst trifier.”

I couldn't listen anymore, so I says “Pour it on chum!” and beat it. They're out courtin', now. So I think I did my Boy Scout, what say ye, babe?”

I was just a wreck by the time I got back to the Woman's Bldg., but you never can tell when you're through, here. Cut my leg off if Miss Kuyk., our Dean—you ought to meet her, she's got it—doesn't stop me with, "Darling, you will show these people over the building." Of course I would; and tell the truth, we have the loveliest building in the country, but what I mean, one does get weak walking all over it many times a day. It's getting me down.

Ah, ha! The girl who rooms vice versa across the hall is the flattest tire I've ever seen. Foul! She made one of these Secret Service things. That whips me. She's been having convulsions all afternoon because she got invited to a Fie party. When she got her bid she screamed, "O, Baby, I love you!" Some body yelled back, "If you don't stop, I'm going to bop your ears down." Laugh? I thought I'd die.

Oh, let's get down to it, honey, I'm unproud of you for not coming to Southwestern. I know that's tellin' it to 'em, fat lady, but you'd do well to do that. I'm through with you if you don't make it by next term. I can hear you mumble, "You could have talked all night without saying that." You may think, "Chum, you're bragging" but it's O.K. babe. Don't think I'm bein' tricked. Big time. Come next term. Chum, let's do that li'l ole thing.

Oh, I can get off.

Love,

Lou.

Cecil White looked on banquet menu and saw the word toast. He read no further, but ran to the kitchen and demanded of the surprised cooks a plate of toast for Johnnie Marie Brooks.

She's a little bit ugly I'll vow;
Her figure resembles a cow,
But speaking of air
Her Buick's right there,
So, she's in our sorority now.

* * *

HITHER AND THITHER

I.

Oh, wither, wither dost thou flit
Or flut or flout or flop
Far away, I know, I know,
But where, or why, or whenceforth when
O little birdie? O little birdie?

II.

It tweeks me no twutter
But goes on over the mountain
Hither and thither. Hither and thither.
Oh, my heart!
If I could just go over the mountain
Flutting and flouting and flopping
Hither and thither! Hither and thither!

—Curtis Nunn.

KAPPA ALPHA

This is a damp bunch that live in the swamps. Lot that they have done isn't known about on the campus on account of their peaceful home life in the suburbs, their private lane, and lot barns where the pledges stay. They pledged a few freshmen who didn't know what they were getting into, but after they found out they all left school. Their president, Lewis Warriner, displayed his leadership by leading a young innocent lady away from the dormitory and getting her kicked out of school. Brother Hodges reports that at the rapid rate of payment the radio will be completely paid for by 1984.

PHI MU

Their condition is improving somewhat. They have done well considering they began the year with three girls. The ambition of this bunch is to rate as well with the K.A.'s as one of their good sisters at State does. Their main object is to train girls to be old maid school teachers, and they seem to be fairly successful.

PHI DELTA THETA

A high school club that has pledged every barb that's entered school with as many as two pair of trousers. They forgot their policy was to rush barbs, only before election week, but instead kept on rushing. In this manner they managed to get an ex K.A. pledge. If they can get their Victrola out of the Sig house they intend to do some hot rushing with the use of their jitney service and the aid of Gatesville petticoats. That is, if they are able to rush at all, because they rushed so far after Bratton that they rushed right out of the Pan-Hellenic council at the request of the other fraternities. Of course, the athletic feats of Walter Fox, Fred Seafers, Clyde Sud-dath have kept them on equal footing with the rest of the regular fellows.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

It was too bad that the chapter was so busy sewing up girls that the Tri Delts beat their time with the Kappa Sigmas. Around time for fraternity parties to begin the Zetas suddenly grow very Pan-Hellenic. Anyway, you can't be a Zeta unless you slip out of the dormitory at least twice a week. Their motto might have been "Wine, men and song," but none of them can sing. Their leaders, two of them, are in favor of changing their coat of arms to a chisel and mallet so that they can pry into a few more things.

KAPPA SIGMA

These collegiate wonders can't have dates over at the house without being called up by the Dean. They call themselves Novajoeir, a traditional name handed down from some old chief. They are considering changing their colors from red, green and white, to black and blue. They got the idea from being bumped so much. If you don't rate so well at the Woman's Building one of their brothers can always find you a window date. But don't rely on Bailey Sheppherd, for he will make you two or three, and then obligingly break them for you.

TRI DELTA

They have the advantage of having the Dean of Women for a frat sister. Last year the older girls had quite a time keeping some of their freshmen within the folds as far as the Phi's were concerned. Two of these wayward girls went so far as to have a K. Sig. and a K. A. date. They are similar to the Phis around election time, for at this time they love everybody (excepting a certain Tri Delt brother) and during rush season they call the Zetas common and the Alpha Delts flat tires.

Of course, everybody knows the four that intend to conduct old ladies' homes in the near future.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

These are a bunch of would be society leaders. They bought a house, and pledged the whole campus to pay for it. That is, what the Phis didn't get. They used to have the biggest men on the campus until Army Armstrong left school so unexpectedly. It is rumored that he left McCamey because some one insulted him by calling him "Ned of the First Reader," and left with out shaving.

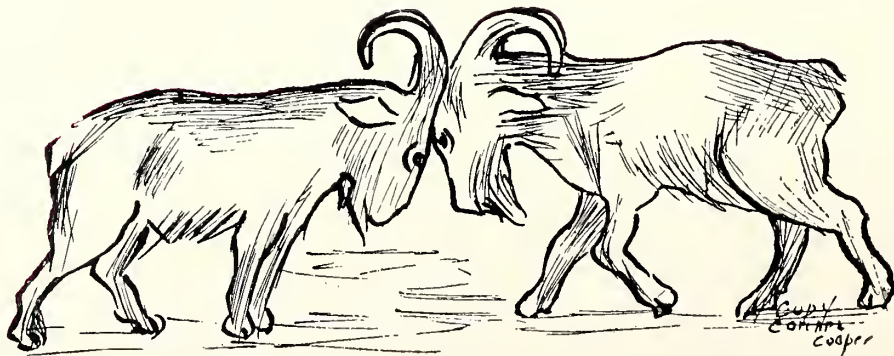

Their national anthem is "Horses" so they pledged Doug. Dasheill, Gentry Bros. pacing pony. Bruce Duncan and Willis Gray, the two polished gentlemen of the fraternity, have done everything in their power to keep up the fraternity socially, especially morally.

ALPHA DELTA PI

If noise counted for anything two of their pledges——, —— would have put them on the map before now. Of course, they were all disappointed in not getting an Alpha Delt May Queen this year. They spend part of their time eating the other half over at the little store trying to inveigle dates.

It's a popular idea in this sisterly order for some of their most unsophisticated members to become inactive.

Scrambled Eggs

I must confess,
Or you will guess
That I can't poetize.
But you can bet
None beats me yet,
When e'er I prophesize.

Ten years from now,
I see as how
The facts I write are true.
And the transformations
In the occupations
For the Seniors are far from few.

There is Walter Bell
Whom I knew well
Back in the Senior class.
He's Governor now.
And the Missourians vow
He lets no criminals pass.

They say that he
Will surely be
In the race for President.
But the Texan looks
Towards Johnnie M. Brooks.
On their Governor they are bent.

And did you know
Mary Pat's in a vodvil show?
She's quite a hit, it's true.
And her funny looks
As she burlesques Miss Brooks—
Why laughs are far from few.

And the latest report
They've tried the pastors in court,
Every one from all over Texas.
And not one has been good
But the escaping Frank Mood.
What a record for one of our exes!

I can not forget
The lovely Brunette.
Miss Hubly, that was the girl.
Such a great movie queen
Has never been seen.
Every gentleman's brains in a whirl.

And a great movie actor
Was once quite a factor
In the Senior class some years ago.
So handsome and trim,
Maje Hardin, that's him.
To be seen at the best picture show.

It would seem quite absurd
If you hadn't have heard
Of the doings of Docs Fowler and Palmer.
They've invented a lotion
Which brings certain devotion
From the user—what a heart balmer!

Remember Joe Love?
He's the darlingest dove
For fifty-two girls in the Follies.
It's simple, you see,
And as clear as can be.
He's director for all of those dollies.

Believe this or not
About Ed Onstot
Who married Miss Janice Goodson.
A journalist he is,
And this is his biz:
He edits the Georgetown Sun.

Our friend Raymond Moses
Has no bed of roses.
In fact, 'tis to the contrary.
And with Miss Bowles his wife,
Each has given their life
As a foreign missionary.

Now Walter Moss,
He is the Boss
Of a taxicab company in Waco.
But he persisted in vain
For Evalyn Payne,
And at last he had to take no.

And she married Shrader.
That boy's a persuader!
And they're living down on the farm
Raising cattle and chickens,
And raising the dickens.
But all's well—so have no alarm.

Scrambled Eggs Continued

Now, Bobbie Burns and Jimmie Lowe
Are selling tonic in a medicine show.
And this is what I'm told:
That the confessions written by lawyer Fox
How it cured him up from the chicken pox
Have caused numbers to be sold.

And could you imagine that
Army would be an acrobat?
Well you ought to see him turn 'em.
And on any trapeze,
He's at perfect ease,
In that circus made famous by Barnum.

There is Miss Beulah Davis.
Oh please Heaven save us
From her amorous novels of sins.
But she is a success,
Though we have to confess
They are much worse than Elinor Glyn's.

If you want a hamburger,
See Charles Durrenberger
Who's bought out Jim's popular stand.
And Miss Melba Box
Is now mending his sox,
For she lately gave him her hand.

That good old boy Grady,
He beat Mister Brady
In Georgetown's last city election.
And if you drive fast,
It surely can't last;
You'll stop—and it ain't for reflection.

The scientist Crenshaw
Has found many a flaw
In the theory of man's evolution:
After examining studes here
He expresses a fear
'Tis not ev— but 'tis devolution.

Miss Elizabeth Fly
Is praised to the sky
As Dean of women here in S.U..
And what ever she says
Every co-ed obeys—
Such miracles often come true.

Ernest Hardin and Dick
Will ne'er get rich quick.
They're boot-legging wood alcohol.
And poor Gusman is still,
For he would drink his fill.
Such things make their business pall.

Salesmen, Duncan and Vaughan
Can sell you the lawn
Of any house over in Venice.
The statue of Liberty, too,
They can bargain to you.
Watch out! You'll lose all your pennies.

He went beyond Nome
To see Santy Claus' home
Did Seafers, the Arctic explorer.
And what he found there
Was a big polar bear.
Poor Seafers! He needs a restorer.

The president of S.U.
Is one whom you knew,
Louis Gordon is that fellow this session.
And they say, in the college
Friends come before knowledge,
And "pawdno" is the favorite expression.

You've seen it, I know
That's Terry's tent show.
You can hear his announcing so well
That two miles away,
You can tell on what day
Velma Biggs will play Little Nell.

Mr. Afton C Weir.
Is living right here.
He's become a very rich gent.
He asked for the hand,
And gave a certain gold band
To a spinster, Miss Jewel Ozment.

The rest of the class,
All just failed to pass.
Then why should I take up all night
By being a bore?
They should have done more.
But they surely saved me from a plight.

When in after years you turn through the pages of this Sou'-wester the class history of South-western's 1926-1927 school year, and the many photographs recall to your memory the faces of old friends and acquaintances, may this familiar slogan, "The Sign of Good Clothes," that has appeared in all your college publications, again come to mind, and your friends and supporters at this store be remembered by you as the store that features the newest of College Styles while they are new.

If so, just fill up her tank with Humble Ethyl Gasoline—then your troubles with the costly gas eater will be over. She'll have a square meal that'll put pep, pugnacity and get-up-and-get-there into her—with no strain on your pocketbook, or your "cussin'" capacity.

This new motor fuel "knocks out the knocks." You can take the steepest hills in high, or crawl along in a traffic jam, and then—without a knock or a stall—pick up and shoot out ahead of the crowd (provided they are not using Humble Ethyl, too). Less gear shifting, more power, smoother running.

Humble Ethyl Gasoline turns carbon into power. It harnesses the Carbon Kids, and puts them to pulling instead of stalling. Costs only 3 cents a gallon more than ordinary gasoline—and worth every cent of it. You can get it wherever you see the Humble Signs. It's great Stuff! Try it.

A COLONIAL BOOK

WITH the cooperation of ERNEST HARDIN, Art Editor, it has been the pleasure of THE REIN COMPANY to create in The 1927 Sou'-WESTER a book truly Colonial in character. ¶ The cover with its massive hinges, the fly leaves in bright Colonial pattern, the ivory colored paper, with border set in Caslon flower design with just the necessary color supplied by the fine red rule which defines the page, the titles set in Old English, the text in Caslon, the opening pages, division pages and beauty pages displayed in a cartouche—all contribute their part to the Colonial motif suggested by the illustrations.

L'Envoi

Only a book full of photos
With a word written here and there.
It doesn't seem much when it's finished,
But it certainly has been a care.

This business of building a volume
Attractive, yet not too dear,
Fixing it to please all of you,
Would make Solomon feel queer,

We didn't know much about it,
And of course we might have done better;
But we've liked making it for you,
Each picture and line and letter.

Here's hoping you'll like it!
